NE SECTION EVENT AT THE YANKEE DENTAL CONGRESS

ANNUAL MEETING AND AWARDS LUNCHEON

Date: Saturday, January 29, 2022
Place: Seaport Hotel Lighthouse Rm I
Time: 12 - 2pm

HONORING DR. PAUL S. FARSAI

Dr. Paul S. Farsai will be honored as the recipient of the Thomas F. Winkler Award at the 2022 ACD New England Section Annual Meeting for his leadership and dedication to our profession and to the New England Section.

Dr. Paul S. Farsai

Dr. Farsai was inducted into Fellowship in the American College of Dentists in 2006. Following his undergraduate studies at the University of Washington, he moved to Boston and received his D.M.D. degree in 1994 from the Boston University Goldman School of Dental Medicine. He subsequently completed a 1-year Advanced Education in General Dentistry residency and a 2-year Faculty Training Fellowship in Geriatric Dentistry from B.U. While in the Geriatric Dentistry Fellowship program he was enrolled in and received his Masters in Public Health degree from the Boston University School of Public Health with a concentration in Social and Behavioral Sciences-Health Promotion/Disease Prevention. After finishing his professional training in 1997, he became a faculty member at B.U. and currently serves as a Clinical Professor in the Department of General Dentistry and Program Director in Behavioral Sciences, Practice Management and Evidence-Based Dentistry. He teaches both pre- and post-doctoral students and maintains a solo private practice in Swampscott, MA.

In 2001-2002 Dr. Farsai was one of 13 faculty members selected nationally for the prestigious 1-year Fellowship to the American Dental Education Association Center for Educational Policy and Research's Leadership Institute to train individuals for higher education administrative positions, becoming the youngest LI Fellow ever admitted to the program. He was the recipient in 2005 of the Massachusetts Dental Society "10 under 10" Award awarded 10 Massachusetts dentists each year who have made significant contributions to the profession, community service, and organized dentistry within the first 10 years of their dental school graduation. In 2005, he was elected to the OKU National Dental Honor Society as a faculty member of the Boston University Lambda Mu Chapter. He was also selected for Fellowship in the Pierre Fauchard Academy.

Professionally, Dr. Farsai has served as a consultant to various dental insurance plans/companies, as an adviser to a multinational pharmaceutical oral health care advisory board, as the State Coordinator for Massachusetts for the Special Olympics Special Smiles dental screening program, and as an expert consultant to the Board of Registration in Dentistry. Currently he works with law firms in New England, New York, and New Jersey as an expert consultant reviewing legal malpractice cases. In conjunction with UMass Boston and the Eunice Kennedy Shriver Center at UMass Medical Center, he has served as an educational consultant to media consulting firms developing education materials for families of individuals with special needs.

In academics, he was appointed to the ADEA Presidential Commission for Mentoring and served on development committees for endowed professorships at B.U. He has served on the ADEA Leadership Institute Alumni Association Administrative Board as well as Yankee Dental Congress Scientific Committees and has coordinated student table clinics for many years. From 2009 to 2017, Dr. Farsai was invited to join the ADA's Center for Evidence-Based Dentistry serving as one of thirteen national and international reviewers and editorial panelists to teach critical appraisal skills in reading and writing scientific literature for dental school faculty in both the U.S. and Canada. And in 2013, he was appointed to a 1-year term as Consultant to the ADA Council on Scientific Affairs. Dr. Farsai has authored over 35 peer-reviewed articles, and book chapters.

Dr. Farsai has an extensive volunteer record in various dental associations, planning and organizing numerous educational programs for his fellow dental professionals. He has lectured in the U.S., The U.K., Canada, Japan, and the UAE on evidenced based dentistry, geriatric dentistry, special needs dentistry as well as dental education teaching modules. He also serves on the editorial boards of several professional journals and is a manuscript reviewer for eleven international dental journals.

Dr. Farsai's dedication to our profession, professional education, and his steadfast commitment to the principles defined in the ACD Mission Statement are exemplary. It is an honor for us to bestow the Thomas J. Winkler Award on him.

Regent Report

Happy New Year, and warm holiday season wishes to all! It is that time of year again and a great time for all of us to look back on 2021, review what we have accomplished, and set goals and objectives to achieve in 2022.

First, congratulations to the New England Section and our Editor of the Newsletter, Dr. Steven Rubin. The New England Section received the College's Award for the Best Newsletter at the 2021 Annual Meeting and Convocation. I know that we are all very proud of our section, and our newsletter helps us to capture many of the highlights of the year, especially welcoming our new Fellows! The College had the extraordinary privilege of inducting an exemplary group of new Fellows this year, and, as usual, the New England Section led the way with 19 new, outstanding Fellows inducted.

In 2021, the New England Section achieved the Model Section Award. This award status is in recognition of a section meeting criteria in a number of areas, including nominations. And speaking of nominations (segue here...), this is a perfect time to start sending in your nominations for 2022. Please consider all of our colleagues who have demonstrated leadership—in academia, in research, in practice, and in the military. All are eligible to be nominated. Let's make a special effort to try to recognize those members of our profession who may be active in specialties, women's organizations, and sister organizations such as the National Dental Association, the Hispanic Dental Association, the Society of American Indian Dentists, and Asian-American dentists as well as young dentists—all are valued and all will be welcomed members of the College.

Here is my challenge to all Fellows—long-time and new: "Pay It Forward", please. Nominate a colleague for the honor and distinction of being recognized by Fellowship in the American College of Dentists. Remember, someone thought highly enough of you to extend that recognition. It is now your opportunity to do the same for someone else (or several "someone elses"!). Please contact me if you have any questions on this. I would be happy to help in any way. Here is the link for the nomination information: www.acd.org/nominations

On the national level the ACD Executive Office relocated in June from Gaithersburg, MD to Rockville, MD with the official ribbon-cutting ceremony at the end of August. It was attended by local, regional, and national dignitaries, as well as by the entire Board of Regents. The new headquarters is in a lovely historic building that will house the College, the American College of Dentist Foundation, and the national headquarters of our sister association, the Pierre Fauchard Academy. The brick walkway leading to the building from the street is filled with wonderful tribute bricks, donated by individuals in honor of someone, in memory of someone, or as their personal tribute (in their own name) as part of their legacy to the College. If you have not yet donated a brick, please consider doing so. Here is the link for brick donation: <https://acd.memberclicks.net/brick#/>

We have all experienced a challenging two years both personally and professionally. These two years have amplified the importance of ethics, professionalism, excellence, and leadership in the dental profession. These are the four pillars of the American College of Dentists. Thank you to each of you for representing us to the highest standards of the profession.

I am grateful to serve as your Regent. If I can be assistance to you in any way, please do not hesitate to contact me.

A Message from our Chair

Dear Fellows and Friends,

The very fact that our meeting, Yankee YDC 2022, is planned for as an in-person event is cause enough for optimism and celebration. Late January has on more than a few occasions thrown us a curveball and provided everything that 'Mother Nature' could throw at us. Yet, we are New Englanders, tough as nails, and we will be prepared and dressed for it. So, bring it on! We are ready and eager to join, learn, communicate, and celebrate this opportunity to share in fellowship once again.

I wish to thank each of you for the opportunity to serve as Chair of the New England Section. I am truly honored and blessed to serve in this capacity to support the goals and vision of our section. Welcome to each of the new Fellows that have recently been inducted into the American College of Dentists. You have earned this position due to your hard work, excellence, vigilance, ethics, professionalism, and energy to advance the art and science of dentistry. Thanks to each of the 'seasoned' Fellows that have the keen insight to recognize the leadership qualities of these most worthy candidates and promote and advance their nominations. It is approaching that time when new nominations are due to be submitted for 2022, so you are encouraged to seriously consider and identify the best and brightest colleagues in your sphere of influence and submit them for nomination.

The Ambassadors from each of the 6 New England states have done a stellar job identifying quality nominees, but your help is needed to nominate from among those qualified dental professionals in your life. This past Annual Meeting and Convocation went off without a hitch and is a testament to the leadership and organizational skills of ACD Executive Director, Dr. Theresa S. Gonzales. Her approach to problem solving, strategic planning, and execution is uncanny and admired. Dr. Gonzales has now been joined by new ACD President Dr. Richard E. Jones to head the leadership team. Best wishes to Drs. Gonzalez and Jones for a successful ACD 2022.

My sincere appreciation is extended to our Regency I Regent, Dr. Paula F. Friedman. There is not another person on the planet that is more dedicated to her Regency as a whole, and the ACD NE section specifically. Dr. Friedman's achievements, intelligence, kindness, thoughtfulness, and compassion are palpable and unmatched, and I admire her and respect her beyond words. Her hard work ethic and vision have been a source of inspiration to an already impressive ACD-NE Board. Dr. Friedman is also Chair for the newly formed Taskforce on Equivalent Organizations (TEO), which will look carefully at equity, diversity, and inclusiveness to open the doors of the College a little wider while maintaining compliance with the by-laws. Each Fellow in the section leadership positions has gone well above and beyond any reasonable expectation of duty to mission. As you know, the New England Section has been designated as a Model Section, a product of that high quality leadership. This designation has recently been enhanced by the recognition of the American Association of Dental Editors and Journalists, awarding the ACD-NE Newsletter their National Excellence Award (with co-winner, the Florida Section). Editor Dr. Steven Rubin deserves our deepest congratulations. He works tirelessly to produce the highest quality and interesting publication possible to keep each Fellow informed and up to date.

Providing high quality continuing education to our Fellows and the dental community at large is a core tenant of our strategic plan and one of the accomplishments that enhance our status as a Model Section. On Thursday morning at Yankee, we will again provide attendees with another great course. To enroll, register for Course 117TL – Multidisciplinary Treatment Planning in Recognizing and Resolving Ethical Issues. Dr. Howard Hill is widely recognized and respected for providing complex clinical dilemmas to consider and has been praised for courses at previous Yankee Congress's and at the Straumann Center. To round out the morning, legal insight will be provided by Mr. Vincent Dunn, Esq, J.D.

Please plan to attend the New England Section Annual Meeting and Awards Luncheon. At this meeting we introduce and congratulate our new Fellows. Other highlights include acknowledgement of those Fellows that have reached 15, 25, and 50 years of membership; the presentation of the Dr. Thomas Winkler Award (which is the most cherished and esteemed award of the section), and presentation of the Outstanding Senior Dental Student Achievement Award by the five New England Dental Schools Deans or their representatives.

One group that is most deserving of mention are the members of the ACD-NE Board. Surrounding me are the finest colleagues and friends that can be imagined. My deep respect is extended to Dr. Lonnie Norris (mentor and friend), Steven Rubin, David Frost, Anthony Storace, Paul Farsai, Howard Hill, Pamela Baldassarre, and our esteemed Ambassadors (Drs. Pan, Blicher, Royer, Ura, and Eason). They are all mentors and friends to me and that is a blessing.

In closing, it is my sincere hope that you remain healthy, safe, and well during this holiday season and on into the future. I am humbled and grateful for the trust that you have placed in me to support, maintain, and advance the mission of the ACD-NE section. Thank you.

Sincerely
Robert Bartro, D.D.S.

Each of our new Fellows has a distinguished list of achievements, honors, and contributions to the profession in leadership positions. We have presented brief highlights for each individual as space does not allow us to list all of their accomplishments.

Nominate A Deserving Colleague For Fellowship

The American College of Dentists through our New England Section seeks nominations for Fellowship. A nomination is a gift you can bestow upon a meritorious colleague and it is both a distinction and an honor. Entrance into the College is only through that nomination process and the College depends upon our Fellows to identify those individuals worthy of recognition.

These nominees, be it through teaching, research, dental organization participation, or community service, have advanced excellence, professionalism, and leadership. These are the core principles embodied in the mission statement of the College. Nominees can be from New England as well as anywhere in the United States, Canada, or internationally. The College encourages nominations from all areas of the profession and with a broad range of experience from newer professionals to those with many years of experience.

The nomination process is confidential and can be accomplished by email, fax, or mail. The nominee should be asked for their curriculum vitae without revealing that it is for the purpose of Fellowship nomination but rather that they are being nominated for an award. A Fellow familiar with the applicant should serve as a seconder. The nominees are then reviewed by a committee of the ACD Board without knowledge of the name of the nominee, the nominator or the seconder.

The deadline for nominations for induction at the next annual meeting is January 15, 2022. The nominating forms and the profile summary can be downloaded through the ACD website after logging on to the Members Section and completed after obtaining the curriculum vitae. The completion of the forms requires a statement from the nominator and should be seen by the seconder. The statement is a critical part of the process for the committee reviewing the Fellowship application. Please do not forward any part of the completed application materials to the person being nominated as that is a violation of the ACD confidentiality requirement. If any additional information is needed please contact the ACD Executive Office at (301) 977-3223 or email at suzan@acd.org. The link to the nomination forms are on the ACD website is www.acd.org/nominations/.

Just as a colleague recognized that you would be a valued member of the College and nominated you, so should you seek to recognize and nominate a deserving colleague for Fellowship.

The candidates name is not disclosed to the committee that reviews these applications for fellowship.

News & Notes

At the 2021 Virtual Annual Meeting and Awards Presentation on January 30, 2021 the Deans of the New England dental schools presented the Outstanding Senior Awards supported by the New England Section.

Those recognized for their excellence and their achievements as predoctoral students were:

Dr. Julia Geaumont, Boston University Henry M. Goldman School of Dental Medicine

Dr. Nicholas DeMeo, Harvard University School of Dental Medicine

Dr. Joseph Dudlek, Tufts University School of Dental Medicine

Dr. Katherine Merrick, University of Connecticut School of Dental Medicine

Dr. Melanie Melgarejo, University of New England Dental College

Contributions to the Gies Fellow Program are encouraged to support the endowment of the ACD Foundation and its commitment to maintaining the highest ethical standards for the profession. Contributions at either the Gies Fellow or Gies Benefactor level by New England Fellows qualify as well towards meeting the criteria to be acknowledged as a Model Section. Please access the New England ACD website (www.acdne.org) as it serves as a resource for information on the program as well as providing resources for educational materials on issues of professionalism and ethics.

The New England Section Board of Directors has begun to discuss ideas to strengthen the ties between the dental students in our section and our ACD Fellows. We now mentor the budding dental leaders through the SPEA chapters while they are predoctoral students, but upon graduation these contacts may be lost. The Board is considering initiatives to connect ACD members with recent graduates to serve as mentors. In addition to nurturing them in their careers, the goal is also to hopefully nominate them when appropriate for Fellowship in the ACD.

New England Section YDC Panel Discussion Presentation

Multidisciplinary Treatment Planning in Recognizing and Resolving Ethical Issues

Dentists face professional and ethical dilemmas on a daily basis. Along with dentists, dental hygienists and dental assistants participate in the resolution of these dilemmas as part of the dental team. On Thursday, January 27, 2022 the New England Section will present the above titled course, continuing its series of clinical ethical/legal presentations at the Yankee Dental Congress. The panel discussion will focus on the recognition of treatment planning shortcomings with the corresponding potential for risk management issues. By using actual clinical cases that involve multi-disciplinary treatment planning approaches, this course will encourage audience participation (dentists, hygienists, assistants) in order to demonstrate how to recognize ethical dilemmas and how these concerns were actually addressed with subsequent clinical treatment. Certain legal as well as the risk management ramifications of the treatment avoided as well as the treatment rendered will be discussed.

Course attendees will be able to:

1. Understand how the dental team (dentist, hygienists, assistants, and front desk managers) can work together to recognize ethical dilemmas guided by the ADA Ethical Principles.
2. Recognize how the dental team addresses patients' concerns about treatment to resolve ethical dilemmas.
3. Utilize interdisciplinary treatment planning to help limit ethical issues and treatment problems.
4. Examine ways to render subsequent clinical treatment that can mitigate risk problems and legal concerns.
5. Determine how to strengthen the dental team's risk management skills.

The panel participants will be:

Vincent Dunn, Esq, JD concentrates his practice on health professionals and institutions in civil, criminal, and administrative matters. He lectures on risk management, regulatory compliance, administrative procedures, and professional licensing issues. He has appeared in state and federal courts before Boards of Professional License Registration and at regulatory and credentialing hearings and investigations.

Dr. Howard Hill, DDS is a Past Chairperson of the New England Section and maintains a full-time restorative practice in Georgetown, MA.

Dr. Roger Wise, DDS is a faculty member in the Department of Periodontics at the Harvard University School of Dental Medicine.

The course will take place at the Boston Convention and Exhibition Center on January 27, 2022 from 8:00 to 11:00 a.m. and offers 3 hours of CE credit. Audience participation will be encouraged.

ALL NEW FELLOWS! YOU ARE OUR GUEST!

ABOUT THE THOMAS F. WINKLER AWARD

The Thomas F Winkler Award was first awarded to Dr. Winkler at the 2007 American College of Dentists New England Section annual meeting at the Yankee Dental Congress in Boston, Massachusetts. The reasoning for the creation of the award was to recognize him for all that he had done over the years to promote the mission of the American College of Dentists through leadership, education, and ethics. Dr. Winkler, a mentor and role-model, served in leadership for the New England Section of the American College of Dentists and as the 2011 President of the American College of Dentists.

Each year the New England Section of the American College of Dentist considers potential nominations and selects the individual that best represents the high standards set by Dr. Thomas F. Winkler, both in professional and private life. Dr. Lonnie H. Norris was honored as the 2021 Winkler Award recipient at the New England Section virtual meeting during the Yankee Dental Congress.

Nominations for the Thomas F. Winkler Award

In recognition of Thomas F. Winkler's distinguished professional career, commitment to service, and leadership in advancement of the American College of Dentists, the New England Section of the American College of Dentist is now seeking nominations for the Thomas F. Winkler Award for 2022. The candidate must possess:

- Membership in the American College of Dentists
- History of a distinguished career in dentistry that exemplifies the American College of Dentists mission "to advance excellence, ethics, professionalism and leadership in dentistry"
- Service to the American College of Dentists with characteristics that exemplify high standards as a role model, both in professional and private life

As qualified candidates are selected, the award is presented at the American College Of Dentists New England Section annual business meeting and awards luncheon during the Yankee Dental Congress meeting. In certain years there may not be a candidate selected to receive the award.

You are invited to submit a nomination for a qualifying candidate with their credentials and summary of their accomplishments for consideration by the New England Section of the American College of Dentists Board.

Nominations may be submitted by mail to Dr. David C. Frost, 14 Laurel Drive Bow, New Hampshire 03304 or via email to: info@ACDNE.ORG
